AISC offers complimentary desk copies to faculty who are teaching steel-related courses. One desk copy per Manual printing is allowed. To request your desk copy, please submit this form.

We offer the following as desk copies:

- AISC Steel Construction Manual
- AISC Seismic Design Manual
- *Detailing for Steel Construction**

**Detailing for Steel Construction* is only available as a desk copy if you are requiring the text for your students and have submitted a class key request. The digital version is available to members as a free download under Detailing Resources on our ePubs website.

AISC Membership is free to educators who are currently employed full time at an accredited domestic university. Click here for more information about free educator membership.
