

2017 ASCE/AISC National Student Steel Bridge Competition Qualifiers

Congratulations from AISC to all of the schools and teams that participated in the 2017 Student Steel Bridge Competitions. This year, 227 teams competed from throughout the United States, Canada, China, India, and Mexico. Good luck to the forty-three teams that will compete in the National Student Steel Bridge Competition hosted by Oregon State University on May 26 - 27.

Brigham Young University	Tongji University
California Polytechnic State University, Pomona	Universidad Autónoma del Estado de México
California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo	Université Laval
California State University, Northridge	University of Akron
Christian Brothers University	University of Alaska - Fairbanks
Colorado State University	University of British Columbia
Cooper Union	University of California, Berkeley
École de technologie supérieure	University of Connecticut
Georgia Institute of Technology	University of Florida
Kansas State University	University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
Kennesaw State University	University of Maryland
Lafayette College	University of Michigan
Lakehead University	University of Missouri-Kansas City
Michigan Technological University	University of New Orleans
Milwaukee School of Engineering	University of Puerto Rico - Mayaguez
North Carolina State University	University of Texas - San Antonio
North Dakota State University	University of Vermont
Oregon State University	University of Wisconsin - Madison
South Dakota School of Mines and Technology	Virginia Tech
SUNY College of Technology at Canton	West Virginia University
Texas Tech University	Youngstown State University
The College of New Jersey	