

2007 Structural Steel Detailers

AISC Associate Members

MODERN STEEL CONSTRUCTION'S 2007 STEEL DETAILER LISTING FEATURES UP-TO-DATE CONTACT INFORMATION for AISC Associate Member detailers and AISC Active Member fabricators that indicate they provide outside detailing services.

This listing is meant to serve as a reference for members of the steel design and construction community as they seek out detailing services for upcoming projects. Information was obtained by contacting AISC Associate Member detailers.

This year's list differs slightly from years past in that participants received a survey via e-mail or fax as opposed to filling it out online. While more than 400 companies are listed this year, slightly less than half of them responded to the survey. As such, aside from geographic distribution information, all results mentioned below are based on approximately 190 responses.

Geographic Distribution

In terms of geographic distribution within the U.S., California and Texas led the way with more than 30 detailing firms each, Florida came in third with more than 20 firms, and New York and Pennsylvania were close behind with detailing firm counts in the high teens.

There are more than 50 detailers from outside the U.S. listed, more than three-quarters of which are in Canada. India had the second-highest count for internationally based firms, with 7 percent of the tally, and Chile was close behind with 5 percent.

Head Count

Looking at firm size, the highest number of detailers/checkers at a single firm was 194, and this was from one of two firms who reported having more than 100 detailers. Nine firms reported having more than 50 detailers, and just fewer than 25 percent of respondents reported between 10 and 25 detailers.

Almost one-fifth of responding firms said they employ detailers/checkers outside the U.S. The majority of these are Canadian firms, as only 18 percent of non-U.S. firms are outside of North America. About 9 percent of all respondents, U.S. and international, have 20 or more detailers working outside North America, and nearly 4 percent of all respondents have more than 50 detailers working outside the North America.

Membership

Only about 5 percent of respondents said they are New England Steel Detailers Association (NESDA) members, but 53 percent reported being National Institute of Steel Detailing (NISD) members. And 13 percent of respondents said they are QP-certified (meet the requirements of NISD's Quality Procedures Program).

Software

When asked to list their primary detailing software package, more than 90 percent of respondents chose one of three products: AutoCAD (38 percent), Design Data – SDS/2 (30 percent), and Tekla, Inc. – Xsteel (24 percent). DetailCAD and SteelCAD rounded out the top five.

Three-quarters of respondents reported that none of their projects use data transferred with CIS/2, while slightly more than 3 percent reported that all of their projects use CIS/2. More than 6 percent reported that half or more of their projects use CIS/2.

Firm Foundation

The oldest firm that responded was founded in 1924; the second-oldest was founded three decades later in 1955. From the 1950s through the 1990s, the number of firms founded increased every decade: 2 percent of reporting firms were founded in the 1950s, 4 percent were founded in the 1960s, 12 percent in the 1970s, and 16 percent in the 1980s.

But the 1990s were the real boom in terms of new detailing firms; more firms were founded in the 1990s than between 1924, when the first responding firm was founded, and 1989—nearly 40 percent of all respondents. The 21st century is off to a good start as well, with one quarter of all responding firms being founded since 2000. MSC

NOTE: The following companies were omitted from the original list in our February print version, but are included in this version:

- Detroit Drafting, LLC
- DGS Technical Services, Inc.
- GENIFAB, Inc.
- Jim Shockey & Associates
- Neilsoft
- Steel Systems Engineering, Inc.

If you would like to become an AISC Associate Member detailer, or if you would like to update your contact information, please contact Carly Moore, AISC's Membership Services Manager, at moore@aisc.org or 312.670.5409.
